KOWLOON V. NAVY. An all-day match commenced this morning between Kowloon C.C. and representatives of the Navy, at King's Park, Kowloon. The Navy went in to bat first and were all out for 124. Lieut Edgell made a good stand for 30, while Mullineux had four less to his credit before he was bowled. O'Neil also made a good score of 19. At the time of going to press Kowloon were all out for 129. Lieut Haughton scored 63 runs.

Rugby Football

HONGKONG 8 POINTS NAVY 7 POINTS. This match was played on Friday evening, Right from the commencement the pace was very fast, the Hongkong team having a little the better of their opponents. Following up some good passing at the opening. they look liked scoring but nothing resulted. Except for brief intervals in the Navy territory the Hongkongites were called to defend all the time and a minute or two before half time the Navy scored a try behind the goal posts after a fine round of passing, the kick not being converted. After the interval the Navy again took up the running and were not long in obtaining a beautifully dropped goal. This reverse served as an incentive to the Hongkong team who, from now enwards did the great majority of the pressing work and time and again Phillips was called upon to save. Eventually Hongkong forced a try of aggression another try, through Clarton, fell to their lot, but it was disallowed. Hongkong then worked hard to obtain another try and at last got one, and the fate of the team hung in the balance while the try was being converted which put Hongkong only one point ahead.

THE CHINA MAIL. SCOTTISH LETTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

EDINBUROH, January 8. Mr James Murray, M.P. for East Aberdeenshire, has, it is understood, intimated that it is not his intention to seak re-election for that constituency, the strain of Parliamentary work telling on his health. The names of Sir John Fleming, Mr R. H. City Chamberlain of Abardeen, are already mentioned as probable candidates. Colonel Burn is the prospective Unionist candidate-Negotiations are in progress for the purchase by the Government of a wide area lieries. of land in the district lying to the west of Limekilus and Charlestown, and close to Rosyth Naval Base. It is understood that the land is required for the purpose of erecting a large magazine.

Messrs Donald Currie and Co., managera of the Union Castle Mail S.S. Co., have placed an order with the Fairfield Shipbuilding Co., Govan, Glasgow, for a powerful mail steamer of about 13,000 tons; and with Mesers Barclay, Currie, and Co., Whiteinch, Glasgow, for an intermediate steamer of 7000 tons for their South African service. These orders, says a Glasgow newspaper, "are not magnificent, but they are the first splash in the shipbuilding bucket after a long frost."

The late Mr M'Kie, advocate, has nobly crowned his many services to the cause of education. - By his will he leaves the free residue of his estate to Edinburgh University for the encouragement of scientific, medical, and surgical research; the teach ing and study of the English language and literature; and of modern languages, particularly- French, German, and Italian. His copy of the first Kilmarnock edition of the works of Robert Burns is left to the Public Library, Dumfries.

The P. and O.'s Co.'s steamer Malwa. 11,500 tone, has arrived at Tilbury Dock, having been taken over from her builders, Mesers Caird and Co., on completion of her official trials.

A way has just been discovered to utilise the gift of Duff House and surrounding policies; made by the Duke of Fife to the communities of Banff and Macduff. It has been taken by a London syndicate, the intention being to make it a great sporting hotel. Coverts to the extent of 33,000 have been rented, and an eighteen-hole golf course laid out. The place, we are told, "will be run like a Scottish countryhouse, and pipers will play during dinner.

The Clyde Navigation Trustees have appointed a Special Committee to consider: the matter of providing a new large graving dock, and to formulate and submit a scheme, and to select the site most suitable for it in relation to the new tidal docks proposed to be constructed on the Shieldhall and Elderslie ground belonging to the

The Congested Districts Board have intimated their willingness to contribute 75 per cent, to the estimated cost of pier at Tiree, on condition that the local Trustees can show sufficient funds to complete the work. When the railway was extended to Mallaig, it was expected that resort; but the want of a pier has prevented | 8 o'clock P M. its development. Once proper landing quickly rival many of the West Highland recreation grounds. Years ago it was prophesied that it would rival the Isle of Man. Its bays of white sand extend for miles in unbroken loveliness, and its golf course is said to be one of the finest in the world. Comunn nan Albanach (the Scots National League which dwells in the town of Lupnainn), takes upon itself to denounce Harry Lauder as tending to associate the name of Scotsman with some drunken creature in a kilt, thereby bringing ridicule upon the national dress and the Scottish. man, One wonders if the members of the League have really been able to sit out a Lauder "turn " with a grave face. Looking at their official notepaper, one almost believes it possible, for there we see douce London Scots masquereding under fearful and wonderful Gaelic names, such as Lionn Mac Gillioss, 108 City Road, E. C.

A TIE WITH THE PAST. correspondent of the Edinburgh Dispatch writes, - While in the National gentleman in a Glengarry tartan kilt-inspecting with evident interest the Racburn portrait of Alastair MacDonell, Chief of Glengary, which is one of the finest pictures in the collection. It was of this old chieftain that Sir Walter Scott told that, shortly after either the '15 or the '45, MacDonell attended the English Court in full Highland dress, with a brace of pistols in his belt. King George, who looked on all Highlanders as savages, was terrified, and ordered the chief of Glengarry to be disarmed. This was done, and the pistols were found to be empty. The report of this affair trave led to Scotland, and at last reached the ears of an old clansman of Glongarry's, who expressed himself thus. "Ah, she wass not The MacDonell at ahl, at ahl, for she's aye loaded."

Shortly after the young gentleman in Continental goods, including :-tartun had left the Gallerice, one of the ourstors fold me that he was the direct descendant of the Chiefs of Glengarry, and was on a visit from the Antipodes, whether the family emigrated years ago. All that now belonged to him in Scotland out of the great Lookaber estates was a little oburchyard in Glengarry.

AN IMPOSSIBLE GUN.

The inventors of "guns" to be operated wholly by electro-magnetic attraction are not yet weary. The daily press announce, at periodical intervals, the appearance of a device of this nature, often with sensational predictions of the wonders it is to bring about. These inventions are sometimes on paper and sometimes in the form of working models, from which the performances to be expected of the full-size gun are wrongly deduced. The guns all depend on the fact that a soft-iron core is forcibly attracted into a coil of wire through which a current is passing. If the coil be made very long. tions from J. B. Scott, Esq., to Sall by and switches are so arranged that the current is turned on just ahead of the iron core and turned off behind it, the iron will be attracted with uniform force and will gain in velocity as it traverses the length of the coil. The theory is that this velocity, by making the coil long enough, may be made equal to that of a projectile from a powder-gun. In commenting on a recent scheme of this kind, The Electrical World shows that this would require an impossible expenditure of FURNITURE, FURNIN BLACKWOOD, CURIOS, TENNIS NATE and Therefore, the principles involved will be applied to the case of a 6-inch sea-coast gun of the 1905 model. The projectile in this gan has a weight of 106 pounds, a travel of 256 inches within the bore, and leaves the muzzle with a velocity of 2,900 feet per second. The kinetic energy stored in the moving projectile as it starts its free flight is therefore, 13,875,000 foot-pounds.

This energy is acquired during 0.014 second, the time of travel within the boro. Thus the average rate of acquisition of energy is 970,000,000 foot-pounds per second. The average power during this small interval of time is, therefore, 1,750,000 horse-power. It is thus evident that for the operation of a single 6-inch gun of modern type there would be required a generating-station capable of supplying energy at the instantaneous rate of 1,750,000 horse-power, or about 1,360,000 kilowatts—a value equal to more than one-third of the total available power of Niagara Falls. One appears, therefore, justified in concluding that the operation of a gun electro-magnetically is commercially quite impracticable.

"Furthermore, certain serious technical limitations would be encountered in the design of an electromagnetic gun. In the case cited above, the acceleration within the gun is 207,000 feet per second per second. Since the weight of the moving mass is 10s pounds, the required accelera-ting force is 683,000 pounds. The maxi-mum area over which the accelerating force would be exerted is 28 square inches, so that the minimum force is 24,300 pounds per square inch, or 1,700 kilograms per equare centimeter. In order to produce this force magnetically the minimum flux density would have to be 200,000 lines per square centimeter. The impossibility of employing such a density will be appreciated when it is recalled that soft iron is well saturated at 10,000 lines per square centimeter. If use were made of the latter density, and with it sufficient rapidity of magnetization could be secured for operating a gun, the acceleration would be only 500 feet per second, instead of 207,000 feet per second per second required to give the muzzle velocity of 2,800 feet per second The cast-iron gun of past ages with the powder-factory as a source of energy would be decidedly cheaper, more convenient, and much more deadly than the electro-magnetic gun with its colossal electric power-house adjunct."

EMPIRE DAY.

(To the Editor of the "CHINA MATIE") Sre. - I notice that the Earl of Meath, the virtual founder of Empire Day, passing through the Colony on the German mail on his way to Japan. I wonder Hongkong will shake off its lethargy this year and observe the 24th May as other British Colonics do ? Why even in Shanghai, Yokohama and Kobe the British com munities rise to the level of their opportu nities and make the day one that the British children fondly remember as an occasion on which the glories of their race and country are spoken of and sung about unashamedly. Is there no one in Hongkong who could start the ball rolling? Is not a love for the flag and all that it mean for us worth encouraging in this British Colony?

Yours truly, JOHN IRONSIDES.

RAMBLING NOTES.

All residents of the Colony have read with sympathetic interest the bulletine issued daily from Government House detailing the brave struggle which Lady Lugard has made against a most insidious malady, and are therefore more than glad that the stage of convalescence has now been definitely reached and all cause for anxiety removed. Not Washed, for Eight Months, by Doctor's Orders-Suffered Terribly-Hands Tied to Stop Her Scratching-Parents Lost Heart

BUT CUTICURA TOOK OFF

EVERY BIT OF HUMOUR "There came a rash over my little girl's face when she was a month old.

My wife took the child up to the doctor's to see what it was, A RI TAY and he told her it was gum rash. She brought ber month, but as it got no better I would have her take the child to tor's. He told my wife that the baby had got blood eczema and gave her some medicine and ointment, and told my wife not to wash the child. We were dooforing the child for eight months, but she was no better at the end of the eight months than she was when we took her first. You can imagine how miserable the child was, not being washed. We had to tie the little one's hands when we took her to bed, to prevent her from scratching her face, as she made it bleed so if her hands were at liberty. I was recommended to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Cintment, but we were doubtful at first, as we had almost lost heart, but my wife said we had given the doctors a good trial and they had done no good, and the child was so miserable not being washed, so we said we would give the Cuticura Remedies a trial. The first time my wife washed the child with Cuticura Soap and used Cuticura Cintment our daughter record like a new child with daughter seemed like a new child, as she did not offer to scratch so much and seemed a lot easier. She was one mass of eczema about the face and shoulders, but the first box of Cuticura. Ointment and bar of Cuticura Scap took every bit off her. The neighbors said it would come on again, as it had gone off too quick, but the child is three years old now and she has not had any signs of it since, George Williams, 86 Sea Brook Rd., near Wednesbury, Staffordshire, Aug. 26, 1906."
